Nell Production for 1885. The American Iron and Steel Association publishes complete reports from manufacturers giving the production of nails for last year. The statistics are quite interesting and the comparisons significant. The total production in the year was 0,696,815 kegs against 7,581,370 kegs in 1884 and 7,762,737 kegs in 1883. The production of 1883 was the largest ers' wages, the manufacturers insisting upon a reduction which the nailers were not willing to accept. The effect of this wages controversy is very clearly shown in the following table, in which we give the production of nails east of the Allegheny mountains, including Virginis, for the past three years, as compared with the production in the West and South in the same time.

Crying from the Monsetops,

The most pitiful and disgusting spects cle that has been presented to the country for sometime was the recent mass meet ing of the Mormon women of Utah. These poor, deluded creatures were brazen enough to advocate the perpetuation of their own shame and denounce those who are trying eradicate the "blot on our civilization." Herstofore it has been presumed that having been decoyed into a polygamous life by the smooth-tongued willairs they was authorized the smooth-tongued willairs they was authorized the same for the Lungs, which benefited me. I finally got by the smooth-tongued until I am now in perfect health, having used no other medicine." villains they were suffering in silence and only awaiting their day of deliverence, and it was on this presumption that the people were inclined to sympathize with them. But their recent utterances must destroy ever vestige of sympathy, and only awaiting their day of deliverence, turn pity into disgust.

The assertions made at the meeting "that thousands in the East leading disreputable lives would be glad to be made wives such as the speakers were," render it very difficult to draw the line between the two classes, if any fine distinction, inwives such as the speakers were," render the two classes, if any fine distinction, in-deed, can be made at all. The heavy hand of the law should be made weightier and the curse speedily blotted out.

Writing on Both Sides.

Tems Siftings.

"I left an article on the Downfall of the Domocratic Party' with you about a week ago." "You left an article on the Downfall of the Domocratic Party, did you? I thought you left it on my deak." "So I did." "Yes, I remember it now; our paper is independent in politics, and your article is too much one-sided." "I wrote only on one side on purpose; I thought you put all articles written on both sides in the waste basket." "I've noticed the same smell about Colonel Yerger. Ho, too, said it was incense, and that the effect it had on me proved it was incense, because I became incensed as soon as I smelled it. We poor women never find out any lodge secrets, for even if a man is ever so talkative, when he comes home from the lodge he is not in a condition to talk. I don't know what Colonel Yerger has been doing to deserve it, but they have made him a Grand Sachen."

"What in the world is that?" "What in the world is that?"
"I don't know. That's some new order has joined. He already belongs to the Order of the Vailed Nightcaps and the Order of Idiotic Red Muffs and three or more Ku-Klux gauga."

"How did you find out that he is a Grand Sachem?" Does he talk in his alsee ?"

The production of 1883; was the largest ever attained. As compared with 1884 there was a falling off in 1885 of 884,694 kegs, or over 11 percent, while as compared with 1883 there was a falling off in 1885 of 1065 022 kegs, or almost 14 percent.

The Iron and Steel Rabelia, commenting on this showing, says "the decreased production of 1885 is very largely due to the sloppsge of many Western nail factories for the last seven months of the year in consequence of a disagreement over nail-ters' wages, the minutae arers insisting upon a reduction which the naileds were Day before yesterday was his HON, JOHN B. MARSHALL, M. C., of Illi nois, writes: I have been a-great sufferer from disorders of the Stomach and Malarial Affections. I have tried several physicians, but got no relief, and a friend advised me to try "Dr. Petzold's German Bitters." I have been using it for several days and my condition is greatly improved.

"Yes, I am in need of a reporter," said an editor, replying to a man who had entered the office and applied for a position; "but I want a startling sort of a fellow—want a man who can make news; in other words, I want a man who is not afraid to tell a life," "I think I am the man." "That may be; but you must understand that the man I want has to be able to tell a plausible lie—one that has every phase of the truth." "I still say that I am the man." "Have you every done much newspaper work?" "No; I have never written for a newspaper?" "Then how do you know you can write plausible lies?" It is a curious fact that Mr. Frank R. Stockton has as large an audience of readers in England as in America. His new work, "The Late Mrs. Null," when announced in London, was so largely or lered by the booksellers that it because the contract of the con dered by the bookselers that it decame needs ary to put a second edition in press before a single copy was sold. The same thing occurred here, and Messrs, Scribner's Sons, his American publishers, have posiponed publication until the middle of March, when the English and American editions will be issued on the same day.

A backy Man.

"A lucky man is rarer than a white crow," says Juvena!, and we think he knew. However, we have heard of thousands of lucky ones, and we propose to let their secret out. They were people broken, down in health, suffering with liver, blood and skin diseases, scrofula, dropsy, and consumption, and were lucky enough to hear of and wise enough to use Dr. Pierce's "Goldon Medical Discovery," the sovereign blood purifier, tonic and alterative of the age.
